Jim and Jean were married in Oklaboma at Fort Sill, Jean stayed with him because poor Jim had to stay and drill;

There wasn't time for the showers that all brides adore,
'Cause - well, you know how it was - all during the war.

It's better late than never - so goes the old proverb.
Which explains why we decided all their friends to 'curb'
Because we thought it would be nice, although a little late - to have a housekeeping shower, at the following home and date.

They have a comfy apartment there ^{and} are are happy as can be,

It's the first place they can call their own since they've been married, you see.

So, if you'd like to visit them, please feel free to do so,

Or, if you'd rather telephone - just dial Olive 5-1-2-0!
